ROSCOE E. LAW,
EDITOR AND MANAGER

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1900.

"Let us have faith that right makes right; and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

IMPORTANT.

Did it ever strike you, friend, that a printing office requires funds to run it as does any other business?

You do not like to miss your paper, and you intend to pay sometimes but as the amount is small you are careless about paying.

Well, when there are hundreds in the same box it places us in hard straits at times.

We must pay cash and cash we must have if we are to run a live newspaper.

You all admit that THE PROGRESS is a better paper than ever before. Then it is better worth a dollar a year than ever before.

But with an increase in the price of paper and the reimposition of postage on newspapers we cannot possibly run it on wind.

We have sent your account but have not time to call on you for the amount you owe.

Suppose you sit down at once and write a letter telling how you like THE PROGRESS, suggesting improvements, and enclosing the amount of your bill. It will be an act of courtesy and kindness and make us think life worth living.

You can also help us by getting your job work done here. We guarantee satisfaction.

WAIN NEWS.

Some war experts claim to see the end of the contest in the near future because of British successes lately. A little consideration must show that this is too sanguine a view to take. The Boers have many a stronghold to defend yet even before they commence in Pretoria. They are still rich in funds, ammunition and food supplies and will make a stubborn resistance at every possible point. When broken up they will probably resort to their old methods of guerrilla warfare. 'Till one British war office realize this is shown in their determination to set out more troops.

It is altogether probable that another six months will not see the end of the fighting, let alone the peace negotiations of the country. Thousands of lives will be sacrificed on both sides ere peace and prosperity once more reign in South Africa.

It is a matter for regret that Canadians and their themselves no more realize the war and proves that the peace of peace have not been a part of the war of courage and blood. At least 130,000 soldiers today the war continues are worthy of the training and her protection and a source of strength in time of need.

NOTE

We have not had a blizzard in this district this winter. This is not to be wondered at when we learn that the little parliamentary goats at Ottawa have been storing up the wind for their own use. The west will not object if they do deprive us of our surplus wind, though they charge pretty high for it.

Hon. Jos. Martin may be a failure but he holds up serenely though often cast down. He is now premier of British Columbia.

The Liberal Government are making a mistake in forcing on their Redistribution Bill at this time. They may put it through and run the next election thereon but another bill will be necessary after next year's census. If justice is to be done, the passage of such a bill and manipulation of machinery for working the act is a needless expense. The principle on which the bill is based seems fair enough but no action should be taken until after the census.

Where are the promised reductions in duty on coal and agricultural implements and the reform of the Senate? Why does not the government impose export duties on nickel and pulp wood? Why does it vote down all measures for the relief of the people from railway monopolists? Why does it not appoint a Railway Commission? Why does it assist foreign immigration and refuse aid to the would-be settler from the eastern provinces? Can anyone tell?

Gen. Hutton's virtual dismissal from the position of Commander-in-chief of the Canadian forces seems to call for an investigation much fuller than is promised. It has become the rule for the General to retire under a cloud, it matters not which party is in power. While some would try to cast all the odium on the government, it is just possible that much of the fault, if fault there is, lies at the door of the Commander. A general coming to this country fails to realize that the militia is composed of intelligent men and that the conditions here are much different from a regular army in the old country. If we may judge by such men as Gen. Middleton, the men sent out are troubled with a dangerous disease—swelled head, which is sure to lead them into trouble in a democratic country like Canada.

Binder Twine.

The Dominion Government purpose offering their surplus of binder twine—some five hundred tons—manufactured at Kingston penitentiary, direct to the farmers at the following rates:

In lots of fifty tons and upwards—Manilla, 12½c, mixed, 9½c, New Zealand, 8½c.

In cartload lots, less than fifty tons—Manilla, 14c, mixed, 10c, New Zealand, 9c.

In lots of one ton up to a cartload—Manilla, 14½c, mixed, 10½c, New Zealand, 9½c.

In lots of less than one ton—Manilla, 14c, mixed, 11c, New Zealand, 10c.

Terms in all cases cash on delivery.

According to present price of raw material the prices quoted are said to be below cost.

Farmers in this district would do well to combine and purchase their supply for this season.

Crop Statistics

The Department of Agriculture at Regina has just completed the compilation of Threshers' returns for the year 1899. Below will be found a summary of this report.

WHEAT.

A sinibolia, in seven out of nine districts into which the Territory was divided, gives a total of 5,777,132 bushels threshed from an area of 312,385 acres, or an average of 23.14 bushels per acre. The total number of bushels threshed in Assinibolia, Saskatchewan and Alberta was 6,946,987. The area was 354,777 acres and the average 20.55 bush.

OATS.

In Assinibolia the number of bushels threshed was 2,311,249; acreage, 74,747; average, 30.91. Total for the three territories, 4,740,963 bush.; 1,36,116 acres; 36.93 bush per acre.

BARLEY.

The report shows 121,272 bush. threshed in Assinibolia from an area of 5,769 acres or an average of 21.23 bush.

Total bushels threshed 342,435; acreage, 14,533; average, 23.55.

Paper combine.

The paper manufacturers of the Dominion formed an association last week for the control of prices. In common with other manufacturers, they felt the general increase in prices of articles entering into the cost of production, but they were unable to advance their own prices heretofore owing to the absence of union. This difficulty has now been overcome. Eighteen out of the twenty-two paper manufacturers of the Dominion were represented at the meeting, and they agreed upon the basis of an advance. The four firms unrepresented it is expected will also join. The first step of the new association was to order an increase of 25 per cent. on all lines, newspaper, wrapping, note and every other kind of paper, in order to provide against the cutting of prices or other evasion of the agreement. The firm of Jenkins & Hardy, Toronto, were appointed secretary-treasurer. Any disputes will be referred to them, and they will have the power to impose a fine upon any member of the association breaking the agreement. It is expected that the papermakers' combine will be of the ironical variety.—Commercial.

Don't fancy that you are no longer capable of contributing to the pleasure of your little world. Remember your love of agriculture. It has a claim to your attention—the world is waiting for you. Whatever magnesian you have, and cultivate any little gift of art or loveliness, you may possess.—Shakespeare's Home Journal.

Springbrook.

From our own correspondent.

Mr. J. W. Brown had a horse die with pink eye this week.

Mr. Cyrus Booth is back from his holiday trip.

Mr. R. Hall met with a slight accident on Friday evening caused by a runaway team.

Messrs. Webster and Jackson, of Wide Awake, paid the settlement a visit.

Mr. Smith from north of the Fort has been around taking contracts to build all stone work that is to be done this coming summer.

Mr. Neil McDougall, who recently sold his farm, has decided to start farming again, and intends locating in the Moose Mountain district.

Miss Helen Gould's project for aiding the Canadian South African contingent by the chain letter scheme has been presented to the different ladies of the district. As the sum of money requested is small, we think this a splendid opportunity to show our appreciation for the sacrifice made by our brothers in their endeavor to assist the "Grand Old Empire" in time of trouble.

"Resolved that mixed farming is better than special farming" was the subject for discussion at the Literary on Friday evening, and was dealt with in a manner quite worthy of the reputation of the society. Mr. James McNaughton, of Qu'Appelle Station, took the house by storm with a rousing speech in favor of mixed farming. The decision was given by a vote of the audience in favor of special farming. The programme was varied and interesting. Next meeting, March 16.

Territorial Tips.

C. W. Peterson, deputy commissioner of agriculture, attended the live stock and dairyman's convention at Winnipeg last week.

The members of the famous Stony Beach band are giving a concert in the Fairville school house on March 16th.

Premier Hantain will arrive from Ottawa this week, and it may be expected that the Assembly will be called to meet before the end of the present month.—The Leader.

Mr. John Tucker, who went to Winnipeg to attend the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows has not yet returned owing to the serious illness of his brother, Mr. Thos. Tucker, of Weyburn, who is in the general hospital there.—Moose Jaw Times.

What is in all probability the largest suit of clothes ever turned out by the W. E. Sandford Co., of Hamilton, was on exhibition at Mitchell & Hemmings store last week. It was a special order for J. Beaupre, the "Willow Bunch baby," who now stands 7 feet 6 inches and weighs 355 pounds. The coat—a tight fitting seque—is 43 inches long, with a chest measurement of 47 inches, while the pants are nearly 5 feet long. Six and a half yards of cloth will make a suit for any ordinary man, but ten and a half yards were used in the manufacture of this one.—Moose Jaw Times.

Sunday School Week.

There has just been observed in Philadelphia, what is known as "Sunday School Week." It began and ended on Sunday. The first Sunday over 200 pastors preached Sunday-school sermons. During every afternoon and evening in the week, special meetings were held in the various districts of the city. There were forty-one meetings in all addressed by leading workers and some from outside. The nature of these meetings was chiefly evangelistic. On Saturday, the meetings closed with the County Convention in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The following Sunday was called "Decision Day" on which definite effort was made to secure decisions for the Christian life. It was estimated that more than 5000 of the Sunday-school scholars of Philadelphia signed the confession cards on that day. It was quite generally observed throughout the city, and the results were very gratifying indeed. Sunday school week and Decision Day are features of the International Sunday-school week. From the same source also, we get our Uniform Lesson System, now read by over twenty millions of Sunday-school people. Our own state has an organization which is auxiliary to this.

Humanitarian Repentance.
It was at a banquet, some bargain market for old and new. The crash was terrible. Women squeezed and elbowed and shoved to get alongside the counter. Frequently two of them happened to pick up the same thing, and then they both retained their clutch on it and took each other to the ground. The struggle was at each other until the stronger of the two won the victory or the other was sent into raptures.
A bawdy patron picked up a box containing three cakes of imported soap for a moment at the same moment that a female looking little woman in a faded tan coat had fastened her grasp on the box.
"I believe I was the first to take hold of this," said the matron in the electric and coat, frostily.
The bawdy-looking little woman held on for a minute, studying her antagonist, then she slowly relaxed her hold on the box.
"Well, you can have it," she said amiably. "You look as if you need the soap."

A DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE

On a Very Important Matter Now Before the Public.

Toronto, March 5.—"It is really laughable to read the claims put forward by many sections of patent medicine with regard to the alleged effect of their preparations in Kidney and Bladder Diseases. The columns of our daily papers are filled with these remedies show the writers' ignorance of the most elementary principles of medical science. It is a funny mistake to suppose that disease is due to the action of germs, which literally eat away the substance of the kidneys. In order to cure the disease we must kill these germs. Now there is on your medicine on our hand that does kill the germs of disease. That is Dr. Arnold's English Tonic Pills, which are the one positive cure for kidney and bladder troubles."
So said a prominent Toronto physician yesterday. "I know a man named Jones—J. Jones, who lives at 237 Elizabeth street," he continued. "He suffered horribly from kidney disease and bladder weakness, and his physician's skill was of no avail to help him. He used all the so-called kidney cures, which proved totally useless. Finally he began using Dr. Arnold's English Tonic Pills, which speedily destroyed the germs that were eating away his kidneys. He is now a healthy man, and his physician has testified that there is no other that can be depended upon to cure disease."

Dr. Arnold's English Tonic Pills, so highly recommended by this doctor, as well as by all who have tried them, are sold in reliable drug stores. A box, simple leaflet, or seal post paid receipt of price by The Arnold Chemical Co., Limited, Canada, Ltd., Building, 42 King street west, Toronto.

Where Bots Hit
"I left my husband's death notice here this morning," said the widow.
"Yes," said the bright clerk in the publication office of The Daily Squill.
"Now," continued the widow, "I want you to add to the notice, 'Gone to live in an appropriate place.'"
"Yes, madam," replied the bright clerk, and the next morning she read:
"Gone to the next in an appropriate place."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Occasion For Surprise.
"I'm surprised," she said, "that no Danish girls do not come to this country."
"Why?" he asked.
"Because," she replied, "in Denmark a plain gold band is made to do duty as an engagement and a wedding ring."—Chicago Post.

The great demand for a pleasant, safe and reliable antidote for all affections of the throat and lungs is fully met with in Buckle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Hale Old Age.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Defied the aged by freeing them from pain and correcting all Disorders of the Kidneys and Urinary System.
Mr. Thomas Ash, an old resident of Benbow, Ont., writes as follows:
"I am 72 years of age, and have been troubled for a number of years with pains across my back. When I would stoop over I gave agonizing pains to straighten myself. I was so bad that I could scarcely walk. I have taken many kinds of medicines, but got nothing to help me. Being recommended to try Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. After taking three doses I noticed a great change for the better, and I can now get around as smart as a cricket. I can split my own wood and am, in fact, just like a new man."

HE GOT A SCARE.

And Probably Won't Take a Drink in the Dark Again.
An east end man had a scare the other night. He was going out with his wife and was ready to start when it occurred to him to stop into the bathroom and get a drink of water. The room was dark, but he had no trouble in feeling out the glass and holding it under the cold water faucet.
"Come, Henry!" his wife called from below.
"Yes, my dear," he answered, and he put the glass to his lips and took a hasty gulp. As the liquid slipped down his throat he almost dropped the glass. Something went down with the water—something that didn't belong there, something that squirmed and wriggled, something alive!
He spilled the contents of the match-box in getting a light. But of what use was a light? The thing was gone. He fancied he could feel it wringing its way down the long, red alimentary lane.
He tried to steady his voice.
"Jennie," he called down the stairs, "get me some mustard and water quick! I've swallowed a snake!"
Instead of getting the mustard and water his devoted helpmeet came flying up the stairs.
"What did you say?" she cried.
"I said I'd swallowed a snake," he groaned. "Don't look at me like that. Can't you see how I'm suffering? Get me the mustard, quick!"
She swallowed a snake? She blankly repeated.
"Yes, a snake!" he cried. "Snake, snake, snake! Do you want me to spell it? You know what a snake is, don't you? Get me that mustard!"
"But why should you swallow a snake?"
"I don't know why. It came out of the faucet into the glass. Please get me!"
"Be quiet, Henry. Don't alarm the house. Let me think. Oh, I have it!"
And to the disgust of the suffering man the wife of his bosom leaned against the wall and giggled delightedly.
"What's the joke?" he feebly demanded.
"Let me get my breath," she cried.
"It's too funny! Listen. I was at the dentist's today, and he gave me some thin rubber bands to use between my teeth. I brought them in here, and one of them must have dropped in the glass. That's the snake you swallowed!"
And she had another attack of the giggles. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.
Mr. J. A. Jones, commercial traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for inflammation of the joints, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road, and am exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me."

The Grateful Criticism.
A little girl with downy hair wrote to her mother: "I have just sent you a dollar for your book. Won't you send me your autobiography?"
To this request she received the following reply:
"Send the autobiography but I am sorry you invested a dollar in the book. I have just sent it. I have read it myself." —Atlanta Constitution.

The three great vital factors of this body of ours are the heart, the nerves and the blood. It is because of the triple power possessed by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills making weak, irregular beating hearts strong and steady, toning up run down, shattered, nervous systems and supplying those elements necessary to make thin, watery blood rich and red, that so many wonderful cures have been accredited to this remedy.
Here is the case of Mrs. R. J. Arnold, Woodstock, N.B., who says:
"I was troubled for some time with nervous prostration and general weakness, feeling irritable, debilitated and sleepless nearly all the time. My entire system became run down. As soon as I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I realized that they had a calming, soothing influence upon the nerves. Every dose seemed to help me. My system was strengthened and gave tone to my entire system. I think them wonderful."
